PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

Dear Members,

As I look back on the outstanding achievements of this club during the past two years, the first words that pop into my mind are: WOW! Wellington Garden Club is amazing and the members are the best! I can’t begin to thank you enough for all your hard work, support and encouragement since I took office in 2013. Anything that was accomplished during my term as president was all due to you, the incredible members of WGC – that stands for “What a Great Club!”

When my term began, I chose “Keep on Growing” as my theme. And grow we did. Our membership increased from 144 in September 2013 to 182 today, which enabled us to win an award from FFGC for the greatest increase in the number of members for the past two years.

Youth activities grew. We added a new Junior Garden Club at Equestrian Trails Elementary and another with Girl Scout Troop 22222, for a total of eight junior and youth clubs. The number of members involved with youth increased to over 30 people who actively participated during the school year. Youth contest participation grew to a record 196 entries and the contest participants gained many FFGC and Deep South Region (DSR) awards for poetry, sculpture, essays, and posters. Top winners are being judged by National Garden Clubs (NGC) and winners will be announced at the NGC Convention in mid-May. More awards???

We expanded our community outreach when club members partnered with the Village of Wellington, local Girl and Boy Scout troops, and Palm Beach Central High School students to plant 1,000 slash pines and 200 mahogany seedlings at the Marjory Stoneman Douglas Environmental Refuge in Wellington. This collaboration gained recognition for our club when we received awards from both Deep South and FFGC.

Our scholarship program was extended to include a college scholarship for a high school student, and we have chosen another student for this year’s scholarship. A new Legacy Scholarship program was established and two high school students were chosen to receive annual funding for a gardening project. In addition, we sponsored and provided scholarships for a record number of youth last summer with ten camperships to FFGC Wekiva Youth Camp and nine scholarships for the FFGC SEEK Environmental Conference for high school students.

Our meeting speakers, Around ‘n’ Abouts, educational programs and social events all got bigger and better each year, thanks to the committee chairs who worked so hard to make all these activities a big success. Last, but certainly not least, I am sincerely grateful to the Executive Committee for their outstanding work in guiding me and this club to “Keep on Growing”.

TREASURER’S REPORT

By Danese Sloan-Kendall, Treasurer

April 1, 2015

Wellington Garden Club began March 1, 2015 with a checking account balance of $25,332.84.

Income since then totaled $3,858.72 primarily from the very successful Wellington Garden Week plant sale.

Expenses since March 1st were $4,817.22 consisting primarily of payment for the purchased plants, youth activities, program services and member education.

March 31st balance in the Wellington Garden Club checking account was $24,374.34.

MEMBERSHIP REPORT

By Carol Coleman

The WGC met on April 6th at the Village Park location. I received many more renewals and the information forms with those renewals. We still need you to make sure to have your check and renewal forms in by the Spring Luncheon if you wish to be in the yearbook for next year. The cost is $35 for individuals and $50 for a couple. The Membership Renewal form can be found on the website under ‘Membership’. Here’s the link:

We had five new members join in April bringing our membership number to 180. Here are the new members with some of their information. You can read about them on the next page and meet them at the May 4th luncheon.
Marcia Kendall, 8775 San Andros, Wellington. jmkmendall2008@yahoo.com, home 561-318-6176, cell 262-758-1566. She is interested in Habitat for Humanity and enjoys planting. For fundraising she could help with selling and tracking plant sales. Greeting and helping at the membership table as well as working on the December Holiday Luncheon are also mentioned on her interests form.

Suzanne Zelden Schneider; 4380 Siena Circle, Wellington. suzannezelden@gmail.com, home 561-507-5517, cell 917-533-3350. Her interests include floral design and artistic crafts and garden art. She is a massage therapist and likes cats. She would really like to learn about Florida gardening basics.

Janet Stein, 5909 Rosman Court, West Palm Beach, FL 33413, jrmstein@bellsouth.net, home 561-684-2135. Janet would like to be involved in the youth programs including the contests and academic and summer camp scholarships.

Ken and Lynn Pernezny, 753 Daffodil Dr., Wellington, FL 33414, home 795-2880, cell 561-389-0181, perneznyk@bellsouth.net. You may remember that Ken was the speaker at our previous meeting. Their interests include gardening and Ken writes articles and newsletters on several subjects. They are interested in the youth programs. They are educators and Ken is a plant pathologist.

We certainly have added a lot of interesting and diverse new members to our club. Please introduce yourselves to them when you can.

ONE LAST REMINDER

2015-2016 dues are payable by May 1, 2015 or no later than the May luncheon. In accordance with WGC Articles of Association, Members whose dues are unpaid by June 1 (FFGC dues deadline) cannot be included in the starting membership roster. Those members can be reinstated upon payment of delinquent dues, but unfortunately cannot be listed in the current Yearbook as the Yearbook represents the beginning year membership roster.

WEKIVA YOUTH CAMP

By Harriet Samuels, Chairman

HEAR YE. HEAR YE !!!!!

WEKIVA CAMPERSHIPS

WGC SENDS A BUMPER CROP OF CAMPERS TO WEKIVA IN 2015!

WGC hit the jackpot this year for campers. I am delighted to tell you our club is providing camperships for six campers, one Leader in Training and one young boy for Critter Camp (1st and 2nd graders). Camp filled up fast this year and there is another boy who is waitlisted for Critter Camp. Keep your fingers crossed that he gets in.

Thanks to all who spread the word about the great FFGC Wekiva Youth Camp. We look forward to hearing from the campers after their summer experience.
Aloha!

Come join us as we celebrate all the Wellington Garden Club has done this year!

YOUTH GARDEN CLUBS NEWS

Youth Contests
By Kathy Siena

As we approach the end of our garden club year, we also near the end of our youth contest activities which have been great. We had about 200 entries for recycled sculptures, water conservation posters, poetry, high school essays, and Smokey Bear/Woodsy Owl Posters. We also had Smokey Bear Presentations with the Florida Forest Rangers at Pine Jog, Equestrian Trails, and Greenacres (Oleander Club) Elementary schools. We were happy to receive poem and essay entries from AP Science teacher, Karen Clawson at Wellington High School. Several of our selected winners went on to be selected by FFGC and Deep South as winners.

As I near the end of my three years leading the youth contests with the help of Barbara Hadsell, I would like to say “thank you” to our club for their dedication to help educate our youth and for giving me the opportunity to volunteer in this capacity. I will greatly miss working with the teachers and children. However, I am happy to say that Martie Spaier and Carol Richardson have kindly stepped forward to take over this job as youth contest co-chairs. Please continue to support them as well. Thank you.

On Wednesday, April 8th, the Wynnebrook Jr. Garden Club had its last meeting of this school year. The 4th and 5th grade students prepared individual pizzas with various veggie toppings. The club has been meeting on Wednesdays since September, working at the Elks Lodge #1352 in the Loaves and Fishes garden that feeds the hungry and homeless. A small group of four or five students prepare a nutritious snack in the Elks kitchen under the direction of culinary Elks chef, Boyd Schmidlin while the rest of the students help plant, weed and harvest in the garden.

They presented an overview of the work being done by CRF, a non-profit conservation organization dedicated to creating off-shore nurseries and restoration programs for threatened coral species. This coral reef restoration effort is one that has been embraced by the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs (FFGC) and furthers the Wellington Garden Club’s mission to conserve natural resources and protect the environment. During the past two years at the club’s monthly meetings, members have donated their loose change toward the work being done by CRF. At the conclusion of the meeting President Twig Morris presented a check to CRF for $400 representing the members’ donations.

Adopt-A-Street Program on May 21st
By Mary Ann Hesser & Bonnie Wenham

We have participated in the Village of Wellington’s Adopt-A-Street program for several years. Volunteers meet at the parking lot adjacent to the dog park near the corner of Greenbrier Blvd. and Aero Club Drive at 9:00 a.m. on designated dates four times during the Garden Club’s calendar year. We pick up litter beginning at the parking lot and continue to the corner of Wellington Trace and Greenbrier Blvd. Grabbers, gloves, trash bags, and orange vests are supplied by the Public Works Dept. Sign up at Monday’s meeting. Contact Mary Ann Hesser or Bonnie Wenham if you have questions.

WELLINGTON GARDEN WEEK
March 8 – March 14
LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

For those of you who might not have seen the letter to members from President Twig Morris, here it is again regarding our very successful gardening day at the Wellington Amphitheater back in March:

Dear Members,

Heartfelt thanks to all those who volunteered at last Sunday’s Gardening Day. Whether you helped set up, worked a shift or helped tear down at the end of the day, or all of the above, your enthusiastic participation helped make the event a great success.

To all those who came to hear the seminars, buy plants and/or raffle tickets, and spread the word to friends and neighbors, thanks for supporting this event. You certainly helped us realize our financial goals. We raised close to $2,000 to help our civic beautification and scholarship programs. It is so gratifying to see our members work together to achieve a common goal and demonstrate to our communities that Wellington Garden Club members really do make a world of difference. Thanks again for your help and support.

GARDEN TOUR 2016

Everyone, please mark your calendars for our upcoming WGC Garden Tour on April 9, 2016. More importantly, please contact me if you know of a beautiful or unique garden that would be a great addition to our tour. This is the time of year that we should evaluate and choose our gardens for next year. So please, check with your friends and neighbors to see if they have, or know of a garden that everyone would enjoy seeing.

AROUND & ABOUT TRIP

Thursday, April 9, 2015
The Four Arts Botanical Garden
By Diane Patterson, Chairman

A delightful day was had by all as we toured both the sculpture and botanical gardens led by Leslie Diver, an exceptionally knowledgeable tour director for Palm Beach. She also owns her own tour agency on Palm Beach, wherein she gives private, as well as special events tours. As we walked the gardens, she explained not only the history of the Four Arts property and surroundings, but much of the history of Palm Beach and its famously wealthy residents of years gone by.

The gardens were unbelievably beautiful, and one passing by on the street could never imagine what was behind the iron fencing. We then toured the landscaping garden which is maintained by the Palm Beach GC. The varieties of exotic plants, bushes and trees were fantastic. This part of the tour was led by a pro-bono “gentleman” gardener who keeps everything trimmed immaculately and commented that about 20 member of the PBGC come in weekly to manicure and keep falling leaves swept up.

After our tour, we experienced the most wonderful luncheon at the Serenity Garden Tea House & Restaurant. The food was outstanding, service was excellent, and the atmosphere eclectic. We ate in a charming little years-gone-by house where nothing matched, not a dish, not a teacup, not a chair, and certainly not a table, but absolutely adorable and definitely is on my list for out-of-towners to see! I felt as if I was back in the ’20s, and we even took pictures with old-time hats on our heads. It was truly a fun day. Again, we have to hand it to Diane….she certainly scopes out great Around ’n’ About adventures. (I feel like I’m Hap Ernstein rating Diane’s talent)! By the way, several of us purchased some of their outstanding tea, especially the coconut black tea!
Growing Luffas
By Chris Tiner

Luffas hanging in Publix in the shower aides and natural soaps department.

One luffa in the skin, and one peeled with the skin off. They grow on vines.

Looking down on a luffa. The seeds are in the tunnels and come out when you tap the luffa after it is peeled.
At our April 6th meeting, WGC member Chris Tiner gave the club a demonstration of how to grow your own luffas. Surprise, they don’t grow in the ocean!

These luffas are sold in various stores as products for your shower or bathtub. When wet, they can be used with or without soap to massage and wash your body and aid in removing dead skin cells leaving your skin very soft. They can also be used as household aids in scrubbing. They are very tough yet flexible when wet. She also shook the unpeeled luffa to prove it had many seeds while it was in the skin. When the seeds are black, they are good to plant, but if they are white, they are not mature seeds. Rinse sap out of the luffa and remove seeds. The vine has large leaves and bears pretty yellow flowers, which after being pollinated, make luffas. They grow well in well-drained soil, in sun or partial shade. If luffas are picked after they turn yellow/brown, the skin peels off easily.

For anyone wishing more information about where to procure the seeds and how to grow this vine, contact Chris at ctiner@mac.com.

According to Wikipedia, Luffa is a genus of tropical and subtropical vines in the cucumber (Cucurbitaceae) family. In everyday non-technical usage, the luffa, also spelled loofah, usually means the fruit of the two species L. aegyptiaca and L. acutangula. The fruit of these species is cultivated and eaten as a vegetable. The fruit must be harvested at a young stage of development to be edible. The vegetable is popular in China and Vietnam.[2] When the fruit is fully ripened it is very fibrous. Luffa are not frost-hardy, and require 150 to 200 warm days to mature. The name luffa was borrowed by European botanists in the 17th century from the Egyptian Arabic name لُف lūf.[1]

SUNSET SOCIAL

It was a lively group that gathered last week at Bob and Shirley Fenner’s home for the last Sunset Social of the club year.

Our sincere thanks to the Fenners for hosting this event and to Mary Drexler, the ultimate Party Girl, who organized it together with her able assistants Marilyn Walvoord, Deb Russell and Mary Anne Greely. Shown here and on the following page are a few glimpses of the happy attendees. Was it the wine or the company or both that made everyone smile?
The final class in the trilogy of “Designs with Household Treasures” was held on February 25th. Each of the class participants brought a pitcher from home along with their personalized plant material and accessories. Our instructors, Chris Biscoglio and Susan Hillson, provided pussy willow and special instructions regarding the need for a rhythmic manner of plant material placement. Scale and proportion to the pitcher were also emphasized.

And while the results were as varied as the number of people, the most rewarding aspect for this co-chair was the personal stories she heard after the class. One woman had used a pitcher which had been in her family since the 19th century and she had loved it but never quite knew what to do with it. Now she does, and it will henceforth be given a special place of honor in her home, complete with arrangement. Another woman had used a pitcher that her mother had given her. She couldn’t wait to send her mother a picture of the pitcher plus flower arrangement. It was a lovely series with learning and laughter combined. Our special thanks to Chris and Susan for being our wonderful instructors.

A DAY AT FAIRCHILD BOTANIC GARDEN
DALE CHIHULY EXHIBITION
By Evvy Bartley, Newsletter Chair

Though I didn’t participate with the Boynton Beach Garden Club, a friend of mine and I drove to Miami last month to attend the fabulous Chihuly exhibition at the Fairchild Tropical Botanic Garden. I just wanted to share with the club our great adventure which was truly an exhibition not to be missed. The exhibit is at Fairchild until May 31. If you miss it now, if and when it ever returns, I would strongly encourage you all to see it.

It was truly worth the drive, and his work was astonishing not only in the arrangements and colors of the glass, but the immensity of size. It was mind blowing to see his displays throughout the gardens. There were many places where you could just sit and gaze at these inspiring structures...it was like another dimension on earth.
We later went into the museum and watched several interesting videos of his work and productions. There also were many small-scale displays of his phenomenal artwork.

Chihuly is known for revolutionizing the Studio Glass movement and elevating the perception of the glass medium to fine art. His work is included in more than 200 museums worldwide, including the Norton Museum in West Palm Beach.
Enthusiastic members of Wellington Garden Club were on hand at the 89th Convention of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs (FFGC) held in Boca Raton earlier this month. We cheered wildly as Wellington Garden Club’s name was announced again and again and WGC was recognized as a top award winner for all the incredible projects undertaken by our club.

Thanks to all of you who worked on these projects by planning programs, organizing events, and volunteering in so many ways to help us achieve this recognition. Thanks also to those who used their talents to write and design the award submissions, including Vanessa Essery, Kathy Siena, Diane Patterson, Linda DeSanti and everyone whose photos helped document the projects. And in case you didn’t know, these winning awards came with monetary prizes that added over $300 to the club’s treasury!

A very special award that was a big secret until it was announced at the convention was the Member Award of Honor given to Lisa Ferrano. She was recognized by both National Garden Clubs and the Deep South Region as follows: The Member Award of Honor recognizes those NGC members, whose volunteer efforts, during a period of five years, have made outstanding contribution(s) to club and community. Every garden club has those very special members who work tirelessly and give years of service in many areas …This was our club’s opportunity to say “we appreciate you and thank you for all your efforts!” There were only eight recipients of this award in the entire country!

Congratulations, Lisa!

Another special award was the Earth Steward Award given to Barbara Hadsell, WGC Awards Chairman, for her many accomplishments, which include but are not limited to the following: Master Consultant in NGC Landscape Design and a Consultant in NGC Environmental Studies and Gardening Study. Barbara also has chaired Courses I and II NGC’s Environmental Studies School in District X, and helped establish FFGC’s Earth Steward Recognition for which she currently serves as chairman. Barbara is shown here as she receives the Earth Steward Award from President Sue Angle.
Awards (cont’d)

The list of awards received at Convention by our club is impressive.

- FFGC Special Youth Programs award for the Smokey Bear program, organized by Kathy Siena, involving over 100 children at Pine Jog Elementary School.
- FFGC Parks and Grounds award for the Around ‘n’ About trip to the Eigelberger estate. Thanks, Diane Patterson, for putting together such a great trip.
- FFGC Special Membership Incentive award for greatest actual growth in members over the last two years. Thanks to Danese Sloan Kendall for documenting our membership numbers.
- FFGC Tree Planting Achievement given in recognition for planting over 1000 slash pine and mahogany seedlings in conjunction with Girl and Boy Scout troops and Palm Beach Central’s environmental club members. Lisa Ferrano, John Siena and Vanessa Essery helped bring these groups together.

- Deep South Region also recognized the same tree planting project with two awards: The Tree Planting Award and the Special Achievement Award.
- Deep South award for Butterfly Conservation with Community Involvement recognized our work to help restore the butterfly garden at St. David’s with the Girl Scouts, under the leadership of Vanessa Essery.
- Deep South Unified Project “Community Gardens” received a Commendation by President Sue Angle for our work and a $125 cash award from Dean Day Saunders. Thanks to Tim Hadsell and all who volunteer at the Elks Garden.

Five clubs in Florida, including WGC, submitted award applications for the two-year NGC President’s Special project award. All received Certificates of Commendation from President Sue Angle. WGC sent detailed information of all the club’s programs and Around ‘n’ Abouts planned by Diane Patterson that reflected our interest in learning more about wildlife in our area. Winners will be announced at the NGC convention next month. STAY TUNED!
